

City announces proactive measures to reduce spread of Coronavirus.

The City of Hudson March 16 2020 – The City of Hudson is taking measures to prevent the spread of the Coronavirus (COVID-19), including limiting in-person interactions for city business and suspending all special events on city property and all special events requiring city permitting.

The City of Hudson will continue to provide needed city services, however we will postpone all meetings including committee meetings for at least 15 days. We also strongly encourage all city business to be handled by online or via phone when possible.

These measures are being taken out of an abundance of caution in an effort to protect our citizens, particularly the ones most vulnerable, and to slow the progression of this virus which in turn eases the burden on all medical care providers. Preserving the health and safety of our staff allows essential city services to continue without interruptions. We will be constantly monitoring and assessing the situation.

While we are especially discouraging large public gatherings all gatherings of 25 or more should be handled with extra precautions in mind. We do encourage your continued support of local businesses and your churches but please remember to follow these preventive measures in your daily life.
